A. Lape further explained that, following HPLO review, the proposed rules and regulations would be forwarded to the Legislature. She extended an apology on behalf of the Board for the length of time the process has taken, with clarification for anyone listening that delays were largely due to Board vacancies and transitions over the past several years. It was also noted that whenever new Board members joined, the review process was restarted from the beginning to ensure each member had a full understanding of all proposals prior to any vote being taken.	A. # Guam comes up short in girls softball, settles for 2nd place

GSPN

Team Guam represented well at the 2026 Little League Asia Pacific Senior Softball Tournament in Indonesia, finishing in 2nd place.

Guam took care of Indonesia and Thailand in competitive matchups, but the team from the Philippines (Bulacan Dreamers) were just too much for the four-team field.

Bulacan dominated the field, averaging a margin of victory of 22-0 and not giving up a hit! They beat Guam by identical 21-0 scores in both pool play and in the championship game on Monday.

in pool play and then doubled up on Indonesia in the semis 14-7.

The highlight of the tournament came on Sunday when Kiersten Fernandez pitched a complete game with 4 strikeouts and also went 4-5 with 1 RBI on Father's Day honoring her dad Coach Kin Fernandez.

Coach Kin was the manager of the team and was supposed to lead this team. Unfortunately, he suddenly passed away on May 9. He had just finalized the team roster the night before his passing.

The Philippines advance to the Senior Softball World Series in Greenville, North Carolina in August.

Pros

Because, as a coach, he always wanted to "share the greatness of baseball" in Japan and overseas.

"I came here to teach today's kids they can succeed and become professional players, too, [and] also teach Japanese etiquette and manners. It is really enjoyable," Akiyoshi said.

Akiyoshi said today's kids are "still small and can't throw 100 mph yet," so it is important to teach them the fundamentals when they are young. He said laying the foundation is crucial to them throwing faster and stronger when they are older.

"The most important thing is to have fun. Also, it is a team sport, so I hope they learn to listen to each other," Akiyoshi said.

Better chance of going pro'

Despite not speaking the same language, Akiyoshi and Tashiro said they were having fun with the kids and communicating through gestures and demonstrating skills.

There were also kids who spoke Japanese that helped interpret the coaches' instruction, according to Junior Seman, 10, from Japan.

Other than local kids, the camp also invited young players from the CNMI side each other.

Seman said he has been playing since he was six years old as a shortstop and second baseman.

"I like making new friends when playing on different teams. This is my second time. I saw [Tashiro and Akiyoshi] last year, so I like learning new ways to throw the ball and hitting. If they keep coming, I feel like I have a better chance of going pro," Seman said.

Tatsunari Kono, 13, from Tokyo, interpreted for Tashiro.

Tashiro wants kids to be humble and enjoy the sport, especially to make new friends and connections.

"Even though the message isn't clear, he uses the phrases and words he knows and tries to rephrase it so kids can understand. He also shows it through his actions and shows examples, and I [help] translate," Kono said.

Keeping the sport alive

Tashiro added that the population of people who play baseball in Japan is decreasing. He said the popularity of Japan's Shohei Ohtani, who plays for the LA Dodgers in Major League Baseball, "holds off the rate of decrease by a bit, but the population is still decreasing a bit."

Tashiro and Kono told Pacific Daily News that people are not allowed to use local parks to play baseball in Japan. They want to bring back the baseball population, and they want schools to "get know baseball more in PE," Kono added.

"[Tashiro] believes that things we do outside of baseball, such as perseverance, are important. He wants more people, not only in Japan but other countries, to meet up with friends and families to play baseball together, especially on weekends or any open day," Kono said.

seeking to turn unused and underutilized government land in Hagåtña and Barrigada Heights into safe and accessible community sports and recreational areas," Gumataotao said in a statement.

He pointed to the success of GFA in running the National Training Facility in Harmon, which serves thousands of participants annually and hosts youth leagues, school competitions, recreational programs, women's football initiatives, coach education courses, referee development and community outreach activities.

RICK CRUIZ/PACIFIC DAILY NEWS
The gated entrance to Liguan Recreation Area #3 Park, located across the street from the Liguan Elementary School in Dededo, is found chained and padlocked closed on June 29, 2026.

Gumataotao's office cites the 2020 Census, which states that about 10% of Dededo's nearly 45,000 residents live in Liguan. Next door, Liguan Elementary School had around 400 students attend as of the school year 2025-2026, the office stated.

Gumataotao's proposal did get support from members of the Dededo Municipal Planning Council and Dededo Vice Mayor Ann San Agustin during a council meeting earlier this month.

The senator thanked Dededo Mayor Peter John Benavente for working with him on the bill.

"I also appreciate GFA President Tino San Gil and his team for offering their expertise and resources to developing critical sports and recreational facilities which our children and families will enjoy for years to come," Gumataotao said.

Sen. Sabrina Salas Matanane and Vice Speaker Tony Ada are both cosponsors of the bill. Gumataotao and Salas Matanane are running for reelection. Ada is running for governor.
