Southern boys squeak past Sharks

The Southern High School Dolphins, led by Gabriel Hollingsworth and Matthew Quinata, squeaked past the Simon Sanchez High School Sharks 27-29 in Guam Department of Education's Interscholastic Sports Association High School Boys Cross-Country action Tuesday at Tiyan High School.

In cross-country, runners earn points according to their place. The top five runners earn a team score, while the No. 6 and 7 runners act as pushers, meaning they get the place but earn no points.

Hollingsworth, a junior, and Quinata, a freshman, did their best but could not catch up with the Sharks' overall top finisher Ryner Di Ramos, a 14-year-old freshman in just his second meet of high school.

"I got on the line and my mindset from there was just get it from the gun. Obviously, I saw a lot of competition on the line," said Di Ramos. "But I didn't let it get to me. I just decided that it's my race. I want it, and so I'll run for it."

Di Ramos led from the get-go and finished with a time of 18 minutes, 49 seconds. Hollingsworth and Quinata clocked in at 20:01 and 21:40, respectively. The next several runners were all spaced apart, so there was no dramatic photo finish, even though the score was close. The Sharks' Warren Ortega and Noah Park clocked 22:22 and 22:29 for fourth and fifth, but the Dolphins took the next two slots with Ty Quinata and Michael Certeza to catch up, and Patrick Sumbo locked in the South Side victory.

Pablo Castro and Jake Hoya scored the final points for the Sharks.

And although the Southern High girls team will forfeit every meet this season (unless they add more girls), that didn't stop sisters Cheyenne and Cheyoung Ahn from taking the top two spots. Cheyenne Ahn, 16, ran a time of 24:25, while her 14-year-old sister was nine seconds behind. Southern High's other girl runner, Andi Leon Guerrero, finished at 43:45.
