They were able to take down the Bulldogs' Javen Mendiola multiple times despite his quick feet. The team pushed through the Bulldogs throughout the second half to win by 18 points.

Delay

Halfway through the rugby matches, Guam High suffered a power fluctuation, which delayed the game between the Simon Sanchez High Sharks and the Geckos. After a 10- to 15-minute delay, the game was on with several working field lights.

The Sharks scored the first try of the game with the Geckos doing their best to prevent another one in the last game of the night. Both teams utilized the time and power surge for some extra practice runs prior to stepping on the field.

The Panthers scored the first try of the game 10 minutes into the first half with the Islanders following soon after. Both teams tied for a moment until the Panthers broke it with another try by halftime. The second half had the Panthers show the young Islander bucks some quick moves and nonstop grit to win. The Panthers took the final win of the night 24-12.

from happening. The Geckos stood strong and heavily utilized their defenses to stop the Sharks' swift moves. By the beginning of the second half, the Geckos were able to find their footing and gained their first try. The team later passed the Sharks with a second try and a kick, which allowed them the lead and soon the win 10-7.

Final

Though most of the John F. Kennedy Islanders were new to rugby, with only four varsity players returning, they showed that more is to come from a nearly fresh team. The Islanders faced the Panthers

No. 1 doubles team of Haela Cabiles and Chae Rogadio defeated Jhan Fabella and Iris Calaunan 8-1. The Islanders No. 2 doubles squad of Mela Raval and Melanie Rosalio defeated GW's Mary Carino and Mitekshi Ghost 8-1.

The closest girls match of the day was between top-seeded Wyllie Endozo for JFK and Caily Poblete for GW. Endozo won a touch match 8-5 and although each school had two wins, the Geckos won 22 games while JFK managed 18.

"Every single game counts," said JFK coach Josh Cepeda.

Endozo said she was happy with her service game, which built her confidence.

"Learning serving was difficult, so happy with that. My forehand was working well too," she said.

Boys division

The Islanders were strong to open the day. Brothers Nathan and David San Agustin allowed just one game in their No. 1 and No. 2 singles matches, respectively. Nathan San Agustin defeated GW's top seed Carlos Montejo 8-1 while David San Agustin defeated Caden Poblete at love.

The JFK No. 1 doubles team of Elijah Castro and Ethan Calaunan defeated GW's Rick Uy and BJ Guanlao at love, but the No. 2 doubles match went down to the wire. In the end, JFK's Rui Matsumoto and Reily Torres rallied to beat GW's Jesiah Valensala and Ein Bamba 8-7 (7-5) in a match that could have gone either way.

"We're real proud of our
