The Yigo Typhoons might be the next youngest team besides the Junior Nationals, but they are in the championship series for many reasons — the least of which is that they are excellent ball players. The Typhoons have one of the league's best pitchers, RJ Joe, while Julian Flores is a proven winner as a starter or in relief. Shortstop Jacob Concepcion, besides his reliable hitting, is also an excellent pitcher, and pitched a 9-strikeout win over the University of Guam Tritons in his latest outing.

Junior Nationals head coach Joe Tuquero said both teams have what it takes to win it all.

“What I do see in the Nats, as generally a young team, is that they have become mentally and physically stronger. This improvement will enable the Nats to be competitive against any team in the league,” he said. “The team that executes the game plan best and makes fewer mental and physical errors will have the edge to win it all.”

Play hard all the way

Yigo coach Jeff Concepcion will rely on his team's philosophy of playing hard from the opening pitch to the final out.

The Typhoons have fierce bats wielded by Jacob Concepcion, Carl Quintanilla, Sigi Sanchez and a few others in the lineup. The Junior Nationals don't have that one power player who pitches fear, but they are very good at fundamental baseball, stroking gaps and running bases. The Tritons also have a roster of pitchers — three times the number that Yigo has, and any one of them could pitch four innings at a time and fill a scorebook with strikeouts.

Franklin Ninete Jr., Ashton Tedtaotao, Ricky Leon Guerrero, Guai-fon Terlaje, John Salas Jr., and many more can take the mound on a moment's notice.

Jeff Concepcion said he looks forward to the series that features not only the best two teams of the year, but the rosters represent Guam's best players for years to come. The Typhoons roster is young, but its players might have an edge in experience.

“They were trained by very good coaches, they are still young and they are in shape,” he said.

Tuquero also looks forward to a good series.

“The Typhoons are a village team that has great baseball experience and a lot of heart and soul — down-right homegrown ballplayers that have the capability to beat any team in the league,” he said. “We have a longer list of pitchers but they have great pitchers themselves. Pitching of course is one of the biggest parts of this game, it can make or break a game.”

the women's division and Team MVP going against Team Genesis in the men's.

Though both teams played hard as rock they were battling for, Hoops I Did it Again ended up defeating the Cream Team to take the women's division championship while Team MVP remained MVPs as they took the win from Team Genesis in the men's division.

Tritons

Being held in the UOG Calvo Field House, the tournament was also an opportunity for the UOG Tritons to show some skills with several basketball veterans. Though they couldn't reach the level of the four teams that made it to the championship finals, the Tritons and Lady Trident team finished third in the men's and women's division, respectfully.

The Tritons claimed No. 1 seed in the Pool D of the men's division. The team advanced on Sunday to the quarter finals when they went up against team Affiliates. After defeating Affiliates 15-10, the team made it to the semi-finals, according to a release from Triton Athletics.

Once they faced off against Team MVP, it was over. MVP defeated the Tritons 22-11.

Standouts for the Tritons were returning Triton Logan Hopkins, along with Matt Santos, Daryll Robles and Kirston-Lee Guzman, according to the release.

The Lady Tridents finished in a three-way tie for fifth place in the round robin part of the play. They were later declared the fifth place team by the tournament tiebreakers and advanced to the bracket play.

The team defeated the No. 4 seed, the Elements, at 6-5 and advanced to the semi-finals. They met up with Hoops I Did it Again and were defeated at 18-4.

The Lady Tridents consists of Kat Santos, Myranda Brogger, Rozanna Claros and Maria Pagdilao.
