Methodology: Unlike previous surveys issued via mail, PIHOA procured contractors to assist in the data collection of primary care providers to identify eligible and ineligible physicians. She is currently working with providers in the community, such as FHP, AMC, and SDA. In addition, she has been working with HPLO in identifying any new physicians applying for a National Provider Identifier and reviewing the existing list of licensees maintained by HPLO. Board members expressed concerns of the possibility of over-counting the FTEs or mis-classifying the physicians and suggested interviews directly with the providers to obtain a more accurate accounting since physicians in Guam work at multiple locations and may not be working full-time (e.g., place of practice needs to be determined); suggested a census vice a survey may be more appropriate; physicians could mistakenly be mis-classified, etc. The GBME offered its assistance to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> review the current list of eligible/ineligible physicians and provide input widely disseminate the survey to the Guam Medical Society and the Guam Medical Association via mass email add pertinent survey questions to the new/renewal licensure application process. Schedule: Dr. Techur-Pedro stated that the survey is anticipated to be completed by November 2023. By next week, the bulk of the work is anticipated to be completed; to date, information has been obtained for 115 physicians. 4. Discussion of Telemedicine – Continued. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Dr. Adolphson introduced the proposed draft Cease-and-Desist Letter template, which was distributed to the Board prior to the meeting. She informed the Board that, in addition to the issue presented at the last February GBME meeting, she recently experienced another similar case, where consult was provided directly to a patient without her presence as the primary physician, requiring labs and medication prescription. Dr. Berg stated that letter cites legal statements of fact and addresses P. Flores concern that, since many patients seek off-island treatment, off-island physicians (not licensed in Guam) should consult directly with the primary physicians of the patients. Dr. David stated that it would be essential to ensure an information sheet be also widely disseminated to off-island providers, the public, the Guam Medical Society, the Guam Medical Association and insurance companies to prevent more cases from happening, which was supported by Dr. Berg and P. Flores. She suggested that Dr. Berg consider radio appearances, publishing information in news. Asst AG Weinberg stated that patients seeking related off-island treatment that what they are receiving in Guam, then the physician must be licensed in Guam in order to provide consultation, otherwise, he/she must consult with the physician of the patient. 5. P. Flores suggested that there should be some verbiage in agreements between providers for any consultation for post-operative care, etc. by a non-Guam license physician clearly specify the patient's physician to be consulted. Dr. Adolphson stated that she believes the referral packets arranged by the insurance companies appears to be in-place; however, in her specific case, the consultation provided was a clear violation of law. Dr. David stated that Dr. Adolphson's case is a clear example of why an outreach to the community is essential, so that the policy could eventually be self-enforcing. Dr. Cruz stated that it is important to inform the insurance companies of the violation especially for potential reimbursement of telemedicine consultation. Dr. Aguon informed the Board that not all outpatient telemedicine consultation is reimbursable, and could be discussion of the GBME at a later date. Motion to approve the course of action to use Cease and Desist template, send the Cease-and-Desist letter to the concern off-island physicians and their place of work and its local office; inform the public-at-large of the mandate (including insurance companies) via an information sheet: Dr. Adolphson; 2nd: Dr. Berg. A. In addition, he currently holds a PI passport and has not provided any official proof of eligibility to work in the USA. Currently, there is no evidence to determine his ability to perform medical care in accordance with USA standards of care. b. Dr. Berg stated that it is difficult for the GBME to closely scrutinize an applicant's ability to perform medical care in accordance with USA standards for applicants, who are not practicing or have not practiced in the USA for a number of years. In the past, he recalls the Board requiring applicants, who have not been practicing in the USA for more than two to three years, to obtain a secondary assessment (e.g., PACE) on their competency in their respective field and that this approach is recognized by the FSBM and required of other states. 	and implement standard criteria before issuing licensure. In reference to the GBME's review of applicants, who have practiced in non-US recognized facilities, Dr. David stated that she would support a non-discriminatory and consistent approach that would apply to all licensure applicants, who have similar circumstances. Upon her read of the 10 GCA, Chapter 12, 12205, the law does not specify the requirement to have practiced in USA for a number of years in order to be eligible for licensure. Dr. Aguon stated that the Board should consider relying on the evaluation systems in place at the local hospitals to determine and validate one's competency to ensure the standard of care, e.g., for GMHA it requires a Focus Professional Practice Evaluation. Since Guam needs physicians with specific specialties, she is concerned that they may opt to apply elsewhere if they are required to demonstrate competency by a third party in order to apply for licensure in Guam. P. Flores suggested contacting the concerned practice facilities to determine how they have vetted the applicants. He, therefore, inquired if the PI have similar NPDB-like equivalent system. Dr. David stated that there is no equivalent system in the PI that collects data across specialties and monitors practice performance; however, there are two national entities that keep track of who is license and those licensees who participate in the insurance system, respectively. Dr. Cruz suggested that, if the qualifications is not specified in the law, then it should be clarified and standardized. He also suggested that information from the facility should be taken into consideration, especially if the concerned applicants have stellar records and reputations. He suggested that the GBME could consider the issuance of temporary licenses in the interim, with full licensure later. Motion to Table: Dr. Berg; 2nd: P. Flores.
