VIII.	OLD BUSINESS	A. Rules and Regulations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Asst AG Weinberg reported that the HPLO Boards are in various stages of their review and update of the Rules and Regs. GBSW and GBAHE have made great progress. GBME just started. GBAHE has been working on and off since 2017 to get through 50 pages. GBEO made a lot of good progress. Lots of work has shifted into Asst AG Weinberg's court to format and review. - HPLO shared the grading system/ pie chart for percentage of completion of this document for each Board and encouraged all the Boards to complete the review as soon as possible. - Asst AG Weinberg expressed the importance of the Boards' commitment to complete the update of the Rules and Regulations and the need to convene weekly work sessions as soon as possible. Meeting with HPLO Staff is also helpful, especially in the sections pertaining to the budget and fees. - Lastly, the Asst AG Weinberg stated that the Rules and Regulations are necessary to address how the Board would address complaints, investigations and, in particular, standards of care for each of the specialties. Although Rules and Regulations exist, they are significantly outdated or a mirror of the mandated 		COHA	12:42	Tabled legislation. Given a recent lawsuit and the increase publicity regarding certain cases, it has become more urgent to bring the Rules and Regulations up to date, as the OAG has to defend issues brought before the HPLO Boards; therefore, having updated and current procedures identified in Rules and Regulations would be very beneficial.

Ethics Training with AAG Weinberg <ul style="list-style-type: none">- This Ethics Training is a requirement for all GovGuam agencies, new employees and all Board Members. The date is to be determined. The target time is to be after 6:00PM.- The last time it was held was 3 or 4 different days and times. The training is around 3-4 hours. Trey Lance debuts as 49ers QB

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Trey Lance's up-and-down debut performance in the preseason has done little to alter the timeline the San Francisco 49ers have for when their rookie quarterback will get more time with the first team in practice and possibly take over as starter.

Lance had a few dazzling plays on Saturday night against the Kansas City Chiefs highlighted by an 80-yard touchdown pass to Trent Sherfield but also showed some signs of inexperience with some off-target throws and inability to avoid sacks.

So as the Niners head into the week of their second preseason game following two joint practices against the Los Angeles Chargers, the pecking order at quarterback remains Jimmy Garoppolo as starter with Lance mixing in just occasionally with the first team.

"I haven't really defined that for myself either," coach Kyle Shanahan said Sunday about what Lance needs to show to get more time in practice with the starters.

"When I think it feels right, when he seems ready, when I think the team seems ready. We'll continue to mix them in there. But I don't plan on just doing that completely. ... I wish I could help him out there longer. I know he enjoys playing. He's only been able to play one game in over a year. But I think it was good for him to get out. I think he started out good, got a little excited sometimes which he does. And you get a little excited, some of your technique and stuff you lose which will be fun to watch with him."

Lance threw the 80-yard TD pass on the first play of his second drive, making a half roll to his left, stopping and throwing back across the field to Sherfield. The Niners got a field goal on their next drive and then came up empty on the final five possessions with Lance in the game, getting just two first downs on those drives.

Lance finished 5 for 14 for 128 yards. He was hurt by three dropped passes by his receivers but also nearly threw two interceptions and recovered his own fumble on one of his four sacks.

QB Love's status with Packers unclear

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Packers quarterback Jordan Love's status for Green Bay's next exhibition game is uncertain due to a shoulder issue that prevented him from playing in the second half of his pro debut.

Love said after Saturday night's 26-7 loss to the Houston Texans that "I just dinged my shoulder a little bit" when Jonathan Greenard sacked him and forced a fumble late in the second quarter.

"He's doing fine," Packers coach Matt LaFleur said Sunday. "It's something though that is significant enough that he could miss a couple of days of practice. We'll see where he's at, at the end of the week. We're going to take it day by day."

LaFleur said Saturday night that the Packers initially hoped to have Love play three quarters but decided to rest him the entire second half after the hit from Greenard.

The Packers host the New York Jets on Saturday in their next preseason matchup. They're also conducting joint practices with the Jets on Wednesday and Thursday.

If the Packers decide to hold Love out of the Jets game, they could be in the market for a quarterback in the next few days.
